

NEXT DAY DESPATCH

Your partners in productivity, profitability and growth.

Next day despatch for orders placed by 2pm

Rush and short lead time orders are, by their very nature, difficult to fulfil. Yet they are often the ultimate drivers of customer satisfaction and loyalty. Fasson® Next Day Despatch enables you to order material one day before 2pm and put it on press the next. You can win more business in time sensitive jobs as well as limit the impact of last minute customer changes. With Next Day Despatch, you need only forecast for the following day – the kind of turnaround that increases accuracy even as it reduces inventory.

Your Advantages:

- Increased responsiveness to your customers' needs.
- Enhanced productivity.
- Simplified planning and ordering.
- Reduction in safety stock and obsolete inventory (3% or more of your purchasing spend).
- Direct delivery to your press-staging area, reducing warehousing costs.

Our Service:

Through strategically located regional distribution centres – more than any others label stock supplier – Avery Dennison is able to give next – day despatch from your local distribution centre for stocked products. Refer to the product services guide for stocked products and services.

Orders placed by 2pm will be despatched next day. This is subject to capacity and availability.

Real Life Customer Challenge 1:

A leading converter was experiencing problems with its projected run dates of label jobs. They changed so frequently that the accompanying inventory became out of sync, resulting in costly excess and service problems.

Fasson Advantage™ Solution

The company used our Next Day Despatch program to order material for their most time sensitive jobs (labels due on press for the next two days). Inventory dropped by 50% and service immediately improved. In addition, the ordering process was streamlined by eliminating the need to maintain purchase order due dates.

Real Life Customer Challenge 2:

A converter was having difficulty meeting requests for its orders with short lead times, particularly those with a two day ship request.

Fasson Advantage™ Solution

By taking advantage of Next Day Despatch, the converter was able to receive labelstock in time to meet even the tightest deadlines. As a result, the converter increased sales and improved customer satisfaction for all jobs, including two day ship requests.
